OFF BARNSTORMING

Turns Down an Offer of $100,000 With an
Outlaw League

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Babe Ruth will seek an early audience with Judge Landis and try to get back in the good graces of organized baseball, it was said today at the office of the New York Yankees.

Admitting that he was poorly advised, the king of swat has abandoned the remainder of his barnstorming trip and has turned down an offer of $100,000 to play with an outlaw team.

WILSEY TELLS STORY OF ESCAPING FROM CITY PRISON

Says Broom Aided Him in Reaching File in Fire Truck

An attempt was made yesterday by Chief of Police Martin and officers of Pasadena to make Henry P. Wilsey, alleged forger, who escaped from the Glendale jail and who was later captured and turned over to the police of Pasadena, tell how he escaped.

According to Chief Martin, Wilsey said that he reached through the bars of his cell and secured hold on a broom on the top of the cell for the use of prisoners in cleaning their cells. He used the handle of the broom, according to his story, to reach a file on the running board of a fire truck. He said that about 8 o'clock in the evening all of the firemen went out in front of the engine house, where the jail is situated, and that at that time he started to file through the bars holding the lock of the door. The filing made too much noise and, according to Wilsey, he reached through the bars of his cell and pried the lock loose.

He claims to have opened the door and made sure that his work was successful and then returned to the cell and returned the lock to its place.

Before retiring, several firemen came back to his cell and talked to him about racing cars and on other topics. He said that none of them noticed the fact that the lock on the door had been tampered with.

After the firemen retired Wilsey slipped out of the rear door of the jail and ran the entire distance to Montrose. From Montrose he walked to his home in Sunland. Securing his automobile, he started his race for freedom. He was chased by motorcycle officers several times, but escaped and, driving into a wash near Pasadena, he stopped and decided to sleep awhile. It was while sleeping in the wash that he was captured. A man giving the name of Watson noticed the car and, having read the description of Wilsey, he sent for the officers who arrested him.

According to Chief of Police Martin there are several points of Wilsey's story that do not stand up under investigation, and the matter of his escape will be investigated further.

JACKSON RECEIVES OFFICIAL NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT

Postoffice Officials Wires
Notice With Instruction
of Bond Filing

D. Ripley Jackson, newly appointed acting postmaster of Glendale received a wire from Representative Lineberger today formally notifying him of his appointment. Accompanying the telegram was another from First Assistant Postmaster-General Hubert Work, notifying Representative Lineberger of the establishment of an independent postoffice in this city and the appointment of Mr. Jackson as postmaster.

The telegram from Mr. Work follows: "Referring to your interest in establishing a postoffice in Glendale, Calif., in place of the present Glendale branch of the Los Angeles postoffice, I have to advise you that an order has been made authorizing the establishment of a postoffice at that point and the appointment of D. Ripley Jackson as postmaster, effective December 30, 1921.

"A bond for execution as postmaster has been sent to Mr. Jackson. When returned to the department in proper form he will be commissioned. On January 1, 1922 the office will be transferred to the postmaster."

Read About Prayer

From the Viewpoint
of James W. Foley

"Prayer," says James W. Foley in "The Listening Post," this evening on the editorial page, "is the awakening of the spirit with high resolve."

What Mr. Foley has to say about prayer tonight will be of interest to you, all of you, whether you are religious or just thoughtful. He says that prayer is not for the bestowal of a gift. It is for strength.

Dr. Frank Crane tonight tells you something about Polang, a lot of things that you did not know before. He says it is a country in the making.

Henry James comments upon David Starr Jordan's advocacy of complete disarmament. Mr. James calls attention to Japan's position in this respect, finding that, while it may be true the people of Japan would favor disarmament, the military party rules Japan and to remain military it must needs have arms.

Editorials on the wonders of the wireless telephone, the test case in which a white man is making to invalidate the anti-alien land law and the attempt of an author of note to brand the disarmament conference as a bluff are ably handled.

You will find it a splendid practice to read the editorial page of this paper every evening. It is carefully prepared and the men who contribute to it are deep thinkers. You will be the better for having read this page, and you will find something in it to pass on to a friend. We believe it the best editorial page in the West.

JUDGE LINDSEY HAS DEMANDED RICH BE PROSECUTED

DENVER, Oct. 22.—Calling on the grand jury to summon before it members of Denver's "ultra exclusive" set in its probe of violations of the prohibition law, Judge Lindsey today caused Denver society to gasp.

Judge Lindsey, who has been summoned to appear before the grand jury, gave out a statement to the press and to the jury in which he called attention to the alleged flagrant violation of the prohibition law by Colorado millionaires.

Included in Judge Lindsey's list of those who should be summoned are Spencer Penrose, multi-millionaire of Colorado Springs and brother of Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania; J. Foster Symmes, United States district attorney and wealthy society leader; Crawford Hill, Bukeye Wells, Frank Ashley and Henry Blackmer, all wealthy Denver club men and outstanding figures in Denver's exclusive set.

"The prosecution of jailing of one of the exclusive class of rich Americans, if they are found guilty of violating the liquor law, would do more to discourage bootlegging than jailing dozens of the poor," the statement said. "What an impudent thing if our swell society girls were hauled off to fill the jails for being drunk! Yet, this was done with two little servant girls who took a drink from a poor man's flask."

Judge Lindsey pointed out that the district attorney in a recent statement had admitted the present operation of the law is a failure.

"TOO BEAUTIFUL TO LIVE IN BIG TOWN"

Miss Barbara La Mar

Perhaps he thought she looked like an angel and her home was in heaven when the judge from his bench in California on January 20, 1914, said to Reatha Watson of El Centro, "You are too beautiful to live in a large city." Thus was the 16-year-old girl banished to her home. That was seven years ago. "Too beautiful," the judge said, and thereafter so she was known. If the girl felt disappointed because of her beauty on that memorable day when the judge uttered those words, she has been compensated, for today her face is her fortune. For the little girl from the small town has now blossomed forth as the dazzling Barbara La Mar of film land, and she is still very beautiful.

AVENUE'S CITIZENS PETITION COUNCIL FOR STREET CARS

Members of the Glendale Avenue Improvement Association discussed the matter of electrifying the Salt Lake R. R. and asking that road to give passenger service to the city and the use of Glendale avenue as a right of way at their meeting last night.

A petition was prepared and the district around Glendale avenue from Cypress street to Monterey road was divided into ten districts and a captain given charge of each district with instructions to circulate the petition asking the city council to begin necessary proceedings to bring about the electrification of the road.

Captains in charge of the territories are: District No. 1, Mr. Updick; district No. 2, N. LaBlanc; district No. 3, W. L. Truitt; district No. 4, O. W. Tarr; district No. 5, Mrs. Baruch; district No. 6, H. McDonald; district No. 7, Herman Nelson; district No. 8, J. M. Banker; district No. 9, Jack Thomas; and district No. 10, G. Harness.

In the matter of having the Salt Lake Railroad abandon the use of the street as a right of way, the citizens of Glendale were of the opinion that the street should be paved with unusually heavy and costly asphalt. This would necessitate the paving of the section between the tracks by the railroad.

In the event that the road refused to install this paving the franchise would automatically be cancelled.

This solution was discussed and it was pointed out that while the plan would no doubt succeed in the cancellation of the railroad's franchise it would prove too costly for the property owners along the street. City Manager Reeves suggested that the middle sections of the street be paved with this heavy and costly grade of asphalt and the outside edges of the street be improved with a cheaper grade of material, in this way forcing the road to install the expensive material if they wished to maintain the franchise. The plan was discussed but no action was taken.

A petition was also introduced asking the city council to take the necessary action to acquire for street purposes certain lots and parcels of land required for the purpose of providing sidewalks and parkway space along Glendale avenue and to provide a suitable entrance to Glendale avenue from Brand boulevard.

RACE QUESTION DISCUSSED AT MASS MEETING

Action of Albert Spohr in Renting to Negro is Denounced

RESOLUTION PASSED

Realty Board Ask Good
Name of City Be Upheld

One of the largest crowds ever gathered in the Glendale city hall was assembled last night at the meeting of the Glendale avenue improvement Association, members of the city council, representatives of the chamber of commerce and the realty board. The council chamber was crowded and many were forced to stand in the hall.

The meeting was called to discuss the questions of whether the Salt Lake railroad be allowed to continue the use of Glendale avenue as a freight right-of-way, the possibility of electrifying the Salt Lake railroad and that road giving passenger service to the city of Glendale in return for the privilege of using that street as a right-of-way.

The main topic of discussion and the question that was responsible for the large gathering was the matter of Albert Spohr, proprietor of the Spohr drug store purchasing a lot on Colorado street between Glendale avenue and Eveett and erecting a house on the lot with the intention of renting it to a negro.

Property owners of Glendale avenue declare that it would decrease the property values along the street and in the entire neighborhood if negroes are allowed to live on the street. While the United States supreme court has ruled that under the law a negro has equal rights with the whites, Glendale avenue residents thought that an appeal to the civic pride of Mr. Spohr might serve to prevent renting the property to the negro, an employ of the Spohr drug company. Such an appeal has been made to Mr. Spohr, it is said, and he is said to have announced his intention of renting the property to the negro regardless of public sentiment.

Several citizens addressed the meeting regarding the negro question and solutions were offered and rejected quite generally. A suggestion was made that the meeting adjourn as a meeting of the Glendale Avenue Improvement Association and reconvene as a mass meeting of the people of Glendale to take action in the matter.

This suggestion was voted down and the following resolution, offered by the Realty board was adopted:

"Be it Resolved, that whereas the problem of accepting the colored race into the city of Glendale is a present one and, whereas the value of the real estate in the vicinity of colored residents will be greatly affected by their advent, and whereas the fair name of Glendale, and its attractive neighborhoods are jeopardized; some action be taken immediately to provide a proper zone for races other than the white or Caucasian."

Attorney G. H. King addressed the meeting regarding the question of renting houses to negroes as did City Attorney Rert Woodward, who explained the legal side of the matter. Chief of Police Martin was called on to speak and he explained how the city of Pasadena, where he was formerly chief of police, handled the negro situation. Other men and women talked but aside from adopting the above mentioned resolution little was accomplished.

It is alleged that when the question of renting the Colorado street property to a negro was first discussed with Mr. Spohr that he intimated that he did not care how the people of the neighborhood felt regarding the matter. It is alleged that he made the statement that he did not care for their opinion as the people of that district were not customers of his.

It was suggested that letters of protest be written by the residents of the district protesting his action and sentiments.

GLENDALE MEN YOU SHOULD KNOW

DWIGHT W. STEPHENSON.

Dwight W. Stephenson is a native of Oneida, Ill., by fate and a native of Glendale by choice. He went thru school in Oneida, but moved to Glendale immediately after graduating. Then he graduated from the Glendale Union High School. He entered the University of Southern California College of Law and was admitted to practice in 1915 and that makes him a 100 per cent native of Glendale.

Mr. Stephenson entered general practice of law in 1917 and enlisted in the army for the World War as a private and was discharged with a commission of second lieutenant. In 1920 Mr. Stephenson formed a law partnership with Mattison B. Jones of Glendale and Leonard Wilson of Los Angeles and the firm, known as Jones, Wilson and Stephenson, maintain offices in Los Angeles. He was elected to the board of trustees of Glendale in June 1920 and was president of the board until the new city charter became effective in June, 1921. At the election in June, 1921, he was elected a member of the city council for the two-year term. He is Senior Warden of the local Masonic lodge, is a member of the Royal Arch Masons and the American Legion.

GLENDALE POST HAS ARMISTICE DAY PLANS READY

Best Celebration and Parade in City's History is Promised

Plans for the monster Armistice Day and week of celebration are materializing rapidly and the committee in charge of arrangements for the fiesta is about ready to announce a completed program.

The finance committee composed of Gordon Clayton, Joe Wilson, Harry Frandy, M. Frug, Vern Nieman and Chalmers Day report that all arrangements for ticket takers, lights and other details for the big show are about completed.

"Curley" Stacker of the Universal Film Studio has offered to put on an animal show during the week in connection with the regular feature to be given by the Sheezy Shows. This offer has been referred to a committee of which W. B. Kelley is chairman and will be taken up with the management of the Sheezy Shows.

Adjutant James McBryde has been instructed to write to a 14 posts in the San Fernando Valley and in Los Angeles county inviting them to attend and take part in the celebration and particularly in the Armistice Day program.

Drew Nichols, who has charge of arrangements for the parade announces that Glendale Post No. 127 will have the biggest parade ever given here and that Armistice Day will live in the memory of all Glendaleans.

An invitation has been sent to all civic and patriotic organizations of the city to join with the Legion Post in making the parade a success. The Elks' drill team has been invited in the parade and the band announces it will endeavor to make their portion of the program a success.

Chalmers Day announces to the Post that he has made arrangements to have motion pictures taken of the parade and they will be exhibited as a part of the weekly travelogue of one of the leading film companies, Monte Vista Post, No. 250 has signified its intention of taking part in the parade.

POLICE WILL TEST FOR J. BARLEYCORN

City Health Officer J. E. Eckles announces that every police officer on the Glendale force will be equipped with a few simple rules to ascertain whether or not a man has been drinking intoxicating liquor and is under the influence. In the future it will not be necessary for an officer to have a doctor examine a patient before filing a charge of drunkenness. He can flash the rules as given by the health department and after a few simple tests decide whether or not his prisoner has been too friendly with John Barleycorn or his brother, J. A. Brandy.

If Strike Comes Government
Will Move Trains
It is Said

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Decision has been reached by President Harding and his advisors to leave the rail crisis in the hands of the railway labor board until an actual walkout on an extensive scale begins. If the strike comes, then the federal government will step in and move necessary commodities by whatever methods are deemed wise.

District Attorney Henry Dweisel at San Antonio, Texas, was given wide powers by the department of justice today to meet a contingency endangering the public welfare through a strike on the International and Great Northern in Texas. No details were made public here.

THIRD PLACE DURING SEPTEMBER FOR BUILDINGS

Glendale Shows Big Growth
in Construction Past Month

According to the United States building census for the month of September, Glendale stands third among the smaller cities of California and the coast as regards building permits issued. Not only is Glendale third in the list of the smaller cities but it exceeds cities the size of Tacoma, Washington, Spokane and Stockton, Calif. Following is a partial list and their standings:

Long Beach	$822,675
Pasadena	757,204
Glendale	520,009
Santa Ana	253,381
Alhambra	251,505
Santa Monica	206,384

FISHING NOT GOOD; DUCKS ARE TIMID

According to Gus Wangenheim, authority on hunting and fishing at Neale & Gregg's, fishing along the coast as a general rule is not so good this week but will improve by the end of the month. Bathing may be as good as last week, however, may be better he declares.

At Santa Monica, Ocean Park, Playa del Rey, Hermosa, Manhattan and Redondo beaches smelt, mackerel and herring are running fairly well. Corbina, yellowfin and croaker are biting at Sunset Beach. The fish are rather small all along the coast this week. Jack smelt fishing is good in the early morning and at high tide in the evening.

Ducks are still keeping away from the southland as there have not been enough heavy storms to drive them from the north. Indications are that duck hunting will improve by the middle of November. Hunting within 50 miles of Glendale is very poor. In the Imperial Valley and on Salton Sea there are quantities of mallard, canvassback, spoonbills and butterball ducks. The quail season opens in this district November 1.

YARRICK QUALIFIES ON SCHOOL BOARD

At a meeting of the high school board of trustees Friday afternoon, H. W. Yarrick, the new appointee, was sworn in. After the transaction of minor matters of business the board visited some of the high school sites considered by the citizen's committee in preparation for the mass meeting of October 25, when they will be instructed relative to calling a bond election.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority.
The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflammation, causing a burning sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging
you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless,
and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, compounds of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effe-rescent lithia-water drink, which relieves bladder trouble.

LUCILLE LEVY

TO WED CHAS WAITE

The many Glendale friends of Miss Lucille Levy, formerly of this city, will be happily surprised to learn of her engagement to Charles Waite of Los Angeles. Miss Levy attended the Union High school in 1917, finishing her course at the Los Angeles High school.

Miss Levy was a popular member of the younger set and many charming affairs are being planned in her honor.

MRS. MABEL RUDY
HOSTESS AT BRIDGE

Mrs. Mabel Rudy was hostess at a four-course bridge luncheon Thursday for which a beautiful floral setting was provided by the lavish use of chrysanthemums and dahlias of mixed colors.

Covers were laid for Mrs. John Strode, Mrs. J. Matson, Mrs. Dugger of Eagle Rock, Mrs. Leslie Jones, Mrs. Claud Hilliard of Los Angeles, Mrs. Arthur Dibbern, Mrs. William Bailey of Los Angeles, and Mrs. King. High score was made by Mrs. Jones.

FOSTER BRIDGE CLUB
WITH MRS. MONTGOMERY

Members of the Foster Bridge club were entertained Friday at the home of Mrs. A. H. Montgomery. It was beautifully decorated with fall flowers and all the regular members were present.

They included Mrs. Mabel Rudy, Mrs. Helen Campbell, Mrs. A. H. Lapham, Mrs. C. E. Norton, Mrs. E. W. Hayward, Mrs. F. B. Morse, Mrs. Reneker and Mrs. Montgomery. Refreshments were served at the close. Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward made high score.

PRACTICE DRILL

Chapter B. A. of the P. E. O. met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. W. Preston. The program was a parliamentary drill conducted by Mrs. Kate Parker at which hypothetical motions were made and amended and discussed. While creating a great deal of amusement it was also very profitable.

Mrs. Kate Parker was appointed Chapter historian.

The guest was Mrs. Donnelly of Orange, where the organization will meet two weeks hence as the guest of Mrs. Lola Bennett. Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon to the 17 ladies present.

LIVE-COLE CLASS
HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The Live-Cole Class of Central Christian Church met at a jolly Halloween party last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Moore on East Colorado street. A short business meeting was held, after which Halloween games were played. All furniture had been removed and the guests sat on the floor on various colored pillows.

Refreshments of coffee, sandwiches, pickles and toasted marshmallows were served by the hostess. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marple and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Carlock, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Hammond, Rev. C. A. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Homer B. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Green and Mrs. Bolson.

PHILATHEA CLASS IS ENTERTAINED

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Allevett, 331 West Lexington drive, was the scene of a merry Halloween party last night when their daughters, Gladys and Lorena, entertained the Philathea class of the First Methodist Church. There were about 46 guests in all, each one wearing a Halloween costume and mask.

The house was attractively decorated in orange and black and over every light hung a colored lantern which gave a very pretty lighting effect. During the evening Halloween games were played and refreshments of salad, sandwiches, pumpkin pie and chocolate were served by the hostesses. The guests unmasked at 10:30.

MRS. JAMES APPEL
HOSTESS FRIDAY

Mrs. James Appel, on North Maryland avenue, entertained at a very delightful luncheon yesterday. The house and table was beautifully decorated in vari-colored dahlias.

Mrs. Appel's guests included Mrs. Arthur Dibbern, Mrs. Bert Ward, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. John Fanstet, and Mrs. E. D. Wolbach.

CHILDREN ENJOY
HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Twenty-five children, members of the Intermediate Epworth League of the First Methodist Church enjoyed a Halloween party at the church last night.

L. C. Leeds, superintendent of the Intermediates, had charge of it and the children had a jolly time. They came costumed and many of them masked, and played Halloween games, after which refreshments of apples, doughnuts and fruit punch were served.

VISIT MRS. GAI
AT SANTA MONICA

A jolly party of ladies motored to Santa Monica Thursday and were guests of Mrs. Gai, a former resident of this city. It was a house-warming of the beautiful new home of which Mrs. Gai has recently taken in the beach town and which the ladies viewed for the first time.

They found awaiting them a sumptuous chicken dinner which they enjoyed to the fullest. The party included Mesdames Landrigan, Rudell, O'Brien, Smith, Doll, Chappuis, Ferry and O'Neill. Farrel, Chappuis, and covers were also laid for Mrs. Fritz of Los Angeles and Mesdames Kamorg and Zuka of Santa Monica.

FOOTBALL CLUB
HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Members of the Football club were delightfully entertained Friday afternoon by Miss Ellen Williams, 239 Dryden street. The hostess decorated her home with beautiful dahlias and chrysanthemums from her own garden and in the Halloween colors. Her guests spent a pleasant afternoon with their needles manufacturing fabric dolls to be given away at Christmas time, and in making quilts for the needy.

This philanthropic organization has adopted a French war orphan from whom it often has interesting letters. Mrs. Edward K. Bond of Los Angeles was a special guest as was also Dr. Margaret York who has recently established herself in Glendale. A delicious luncheon was served at the close of the afternoon at one large and two small tables at which flowers and appointments carried out the Halloween motif.

SAMOAC CLUB
MERRY PARTY

The setting provided for the Halloween party enjoyed last night by members of the Samoac Club in the class rooms of the art department at Glendale High and the bungalow dining room on the same floor, was original and artistic. Among the cornstalks which featured the decorations of the class room where games were played, were very realistic pigs manufactured from squashes and pumpkins.

In the bungalow were witches and black cats of weird types and the refreshments served there carried out the Halloween motif, the French pastry bearing Halloween emblems, and the ice cream representing little pumpkins.

The four new members initiated were Miss Jeanette Abel and Miss Esther Crandall, the art teachers. Chester Vossbrink and Miss Genevieve Mulligan. Others present were Miss Mary B. Abbott, head of the art department, Misses Mildred Meeker, Mildred Osmun, Katherine Taylor, Mary Manbert, June Hurlbert, Gretchen Sylvester and Messrs. William Justema, Ralph Van Hoorebeke, and Gus Borwick.

FINE PROGRAM
AT MUSIC CLUB

The home program meeting of the Glendale Music Club last night in the music room of Glendale High school proved altogether delightful.

The Arion quartet composed of Neva Chibberg and Marie Smith, first and second violinists, Marion Matthews, cello, and Mrs. William Hopkins, harpist, gave "The Swan" (Saint Saens) and "Adoration" (Dorawski) and were repeatedly encored. The solo numbers by Mrs. Hopkins and by Keamoku Lewis (baritone) were also enthusiastically encored.

The room was decorated in white chrysanthemums and made a charming setting for the affair. Mrs. Spencer Robinson, vice-president, who had arranged the program, introduced the artists and presided at the business session at which Mrs. Grace Jackson was appointed assistant corresponding secretary. Mrs. E. W. Kinney announced a drive in November for one hundred new members.

Announcement was also made that the program for the concert to be given by the club Friday, November 4, will be provided by the Philharmonic Trio which includes Louis Bright, pronounced the finest American cellist before the public today; Mary McDonnell Hope, pianiste, and Mr. Calmon, violinist. Mrs. Catherine Shank will sing with them in an ensemble number.

It will be quite a feather in the cap of the Glendale club to give our city a chance to hear Mr. Calmon in advance of Los Angeles. He has just returned from eight months in Europe where he played solo numbers with leading orchestras in the great cities, and last year he was the soloist of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. He is to play with the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra in the near future.

At the meeting of the club November 18, a short program furnished by talented members of the club will be given which will open at 7 o'clock to enable members to adjourn in time to attend the entertainment to be given by the Tuesday Afternoon Club at the Palace Grand theater.

ACACIA MOTHERS
HAD FINE MEETING

The Acacia Mothers' club of the P. T. A. had an exceptionally fine meeting yesterday afternoon over which Mrs. William B. Alexander, presided. It opened with a salute to the flag by Mrs. O. W. Esselman and the singing of a verse of America.

The membership chairman, Mrs. F. G. Hartman, reported an enrollment of 101 members with Mrs. Bullis' room ahead and therefore entitled to the pennant, and Miss Bennett's room taking second place. This good work will entitle the children to a treat of home-made cake and ice cream.

Next month the room that secures the largest number of members will be given a bowl of gold fish. The finance chairman, Mrs. Bennett, reported that all arrangements had been perfected for Father's Night, a Halloween dance which will be given next Thursday night in the K. of P. hall on Park and Brand.

The club has decided to hold two meetings a month, one in the afternoon for the mothers alone when all business will be transacted, the other a social meeting in the evening which the fathers can attend. A competent woman has been engaged to take care of the children during the meetings.

Yesterday's program included a talk by Superintendent R. D. White in which he thanked the members for their help in carrying the bond election and informed them that within a few months their school grounds and buildings will be enlarged to double their present size and a much needed kindergarten will be provided.

Miss Hazel Linkogel, violinist, accompanied on the piano by Miss Clara Bolling, gave two fine piano numbers, Spanish Dance (Rehfeld) and "Old Refrain" (Kreisler). Three little brothers Wendell, Harwell and Wayne Perham, gave three songs without accompaniment, viz: "I Have Been Working for the Railroad," "My Home Town," and "Bobolink" which delighted every listener.

CAFETERIA SUPPER
BY MISS KITTERMAN

Miss Lavera Kitterman entertained the former members of her Sunday school class at a cafeteria supper last evening. Miss Kitterman taught the class before they were promoted.

A very delightful supper was en-

ELSIE LOST HER FORETOP TODAY

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 22.—The Canadian fishing schooner, Blue Nose, today defeated the American schooner Elsie in the first of a series of races for the fisherman's trophy. The Canadian entry crossed the line at 1:33 p. m., with the Elsie still joyed after which the party attended one of the local theaters. Miss Kitterman then took the girls home in her machine. The guests included Janice Cecil, Pauline Wilson, Harriett Beatty, Esther Jones, Carmen Doyle and Elva Bowen.

MRS. FLOYD MERCER
HOSTESS FRIDAY

Thirty ladies of the Women's Bible class of the Central Christian Church were entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. Floyd Mercer at her home, 319 North Jackson street.

Halloween games were played and Halloween refreshments of doughnuts and fruit punch were enjoyed.

There were also readings by Mrs. Daugherty and Miss Garnet Peters.

W. C. T. UNION
WITH MRS. CRAWFORD

Members of the W. C. T. U. were entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. T. Crawford. The hostess beautifully decorated her home with yellow chrysanthemums and dahlias.

All present signed the petition for disarmament which is being circulated all over the United States in an endeavor to secure the signatures of a million voters. It will be sent to the President at Washington by Miss Anna Gordon, president of the National W. C. T. U.

The theme of the afternoon's program, which was in charge of Mrs. R. V. Mottern, was "Christian Citizenship." It included a question drill on the form of our government, the reading of several articles on citizenship, and informal discussion. Of its close delicious home-made cookies and fruit punch were served by the hostess.

Boys in the class of Dickson Link of the Glendale Presbyterian Church Sunday school, enjoyed a hike to Dead Horse canyon at an early hour this morning, returning about noon. They were accompanied by their teacher and report a fine trip.

ACQUIT MINISTER

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 22.—Rev. Edwin R. Stephenson was found not guilty by a jury tonight of the charge of second degree murder growing out of the killing of Father James E. Coyle, Catholic priest, on August 11. The jury was out four hours.

The Barton Bedtime Stories

WHERE DID THE RED COW COME FROM?

By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright, 1921, by The Associated Newspapers.)

If Nibble Rabbit wasn't s'prised at the happenings by the Little Dark Pool, Tad Coon was. S'prised indeed for the two of them. It seemed a whole week instead of only a night since the foxes had pounced on him and Chips Beaver. It was days and days since he'd scrambled up that willow tree to escape from them. He'd most forgotten when Chips

"Wa-hoo!" he yelled. "He's doubled! Get him, Trailer!"

dodged out of his back door and went sneaking up the Wicked Little Brook to look for help. Had somebody caught him? Or had he lost his way? Just as Tad completely given up hope—

"Long comes the last beast in the world he'd expect to help him—Trailer the Hound. And the last one you'd guess would hunt with him—Tommy Peele's Red Cow!"

Tad forgot he was hungry and thirsty and tired and cold and lonely; he forgot he was ready to drop from his awful perch. Why, it was the finest place in the world, a regular grand stand seat, where he could enjoy the steepclimb: "Wa-hoo!" he yelled, "He's doubling! Get him, Trailer!" Get him! At-a-boy! Whoopie, Bossie. That's the way to treat 'em!" He was dancing up and down, waving first one paw and then the other, as you'd do at a race if your horse was winning. Not until the last tail had vanished in the far woods, almost at the edge of the Big Marsh itself, did he hear any one calling.

"Tad! Tad Coon!" It was Nibble Rabbit. "Come down off of that branch. Come this minute, before you fall and break your foolish neck!"

"Yes, and then we'll have had all our trouble for nothing." This was wise old Dr. Muskrat, no one else.

"Come quick!" Chips Beaver said next. "You don't want to sleep out in the brush another night, do you?"

"Eh?" gasped the coon. "Where did everybody come from?"

"We've been here ever so long," Chips explained, but we just had to wait the same as you. We couldn't do anything."

"I brought Trailer," put in Nibble. And he never did tell how very near Trailer came to running the other way.

"But who brought the Red Cow?" Tad stopped, half way down the willow trunk to puzzle that out.

"Come along!" ordered Dr. Muskrat. "Home first; home first. Chips' fine pond is all spoilt, so he's coming, too. Then we'll have time to talk."

"Spoilt?" said the beaver youngster, smiling till his teeth shone and his nose curled up. "It's just nicely helped along. Those busy foxes have done a lot. Now wasn't that kind of them?"

FATHERS' NIGHT WAS FULL OF SPIRIT OF HALLOWE'EN

Fathers' Night at the Pacific avenue school proved a successful Halloween party Thursday evening, not only for the fathers but the mothers as well. The parents were met at the door by white sheeted figures who extended cold hands of greeting and motioned them to proceed into the well decorated court.

Shocks of corn, yellow pumpkins, and long trailing pumpkin vines were stacked here and there while the lights were covered with attractive lanterns which cast a subdued glow over the whole scene. Between the pillars hung festoons of yellow and black crepe paper caught here and there with pumpkin lanterns and ghosts' heads. In one corner a huge ghost stood immovable but this later proved to be the Victrola while in another a cage with a placard above announced "The White Monkey of North America." Upon climbing a high ladder and peering within this mysterious cage the guests actually found a white monkey but the most popular corner of all was that where a real palmer sat in Gypsy garb and unceasingly told fortunes to those around her. A witch guarded a black pot full of beans, calling her wares and announcing that to the one who guessed the number of beans in the pot a prize would be given.

Mrs. Mae Rosenberg as president of the school association greeted those present and in order that the fathers might know what the mothers were doing she ordered the minutes of the last regular business meeting read after which community singing was enjoyed. Previous to the salute to the flag Mrs. C. J. Tuttle as patriotic chairman, read "Makers of the Flag."

Mrs. Donald McGill gave several readings, a few being in negro costume, and Mary Louise Hand Bowman gave two splendid whistling solos. The party had enticed Mr. White, superintendent of Glendale schools to peep in and he gave a word of welcome to the guests and told of the interest he had in the Pacific avenue school P. T. A.

Mrs. Rosenberg then announced that a penny drill would take place after which the "Parent count" was taken which gave the bird and cage to Miss Circle's room for the coming month.

The remainder of the evening was spent in wide awake games appropriate of the Halloween season. Rosy red apples, doughnuts and hot coffee were served before the party disbanded.

Mrs. Kate Vaughn will give a domestic science lecture or demonstration at the school for the November meeting.

Town Topics

Card Club.—The regular meeting of the Milford Street Card club will be held next Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry Brummell on Wilson avenue.

Home From Trip.—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fairall of 550 East Palmer avenue have just returned from a motor trip to Stockton and other northern points. They report a very pleasant trip.

Lost Her Dog.—Little Virginia Hanger of 337 Ivy street, has lost her dog again. It is a Boston bull answering to the name of "Bobbett," and disappeared Friday afternoon. Any one who will restore the dog to her will rank high in her affections and win the gratitude of her parents.

one of their safety deposit boxes. The box was empty when opened. Federal officials believe that $50,000 worth of the stolen bonds were disposed of and that Haanstra hid the rest in or near Seattle. The government is seeking to have Haanstra removed to California for prosecution.

SLAYS FAMILY
MANILA, Oct. 22.—A Moro named Andangan, becoming suddenly insane at Colabato, Island of Mindanao, ran amuck, killed 11 members of his family with a bolo and then committed suicide.

AUTO ELECTRIC CO. HAS REMODELED

In order to more efficiently manage its rapidly-growing business the Auto Electric Service company, 110 West Harvard street, has just remodeled the interior of its establishment. The most important of this improvement is the changing of the location of the door on the south side of the building. This has been placed at the extreme east end of the room, so that customers may drive in one door and out the other, instead of being compelled to back around before making exit. A number of other changes have been made that are greatly facilitating the handling of trade. A dust-proof show window is among the improvements made.

The battery department of this establishment is taken care of by H. M. Parker, while P. A. Black, the other member of the firm, has complete charge of the electrical part of the company's business. Every phase of the work of rebuilding and recharging of batteries is done by this firm, and in addition the company is the Glendale agency for the celebrated Exide battery. This battery is put on by the oldest battery manufacturer in the world, and if properly taken care of has a life of from two to five years. The electrical part of this establishment is modern and complete. Starting, lighting and ignition problems of all kinds are taken care of and a complete line of parts is always kept on hand. This firm has been doing business in Glendale since March and since that time the patronage given it by the Glendale people has called for the improvements just made.

ASK CHANGE

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Oct. 22.—The Ohio synod of the United Presbyterian Church, which just concluded its sessions here, voted in favor of asking the General Assembly which meets in Cambridge next May, to change the boundaries of the synod to conform to the limits of Ohio. At present Pennsylvania, Michigan and West Virginia churches are included.

Truths in Epigram

When a man assumes a public trust, he should consider himself as public property. —Thomas Jefferson (1743-1826).

It is a very easy thing to devise good laws; the difficulty is to make them effective. —Viscount Bolingbroke (1678-1751).

WIRELESS TELEPHONE

A news item says that the Chicago police are using wireless telephones. Instruments are attached to the automobiles used by the department. The chief of police is able to talk from his office to the occupants of each machine. He can give them orders while they are at full speed, twenty miles away, going through the noisiest part of the city.

The wireless telephone hardly is to be classed as a novelty. Experiments with it have established the practicability of it. It is employed for greater distances than yet essayed by the Chicago police, but perhaps under no more difficult conditions.

While nobody knows what electricity is, in a vague sort of way it is sensed as a force. To imagine this force traveling along a fixed route, with a wire, the medium of conveyance, has become easy enough. That is a phenomenon to which the human mind has become accustomed. For the force to find its way between point and point through the uncharted ether is a marvel still. The layman makes no pretense of understanding it. To him it makes all the appeal of a miracle.

There are voices in the air; going, coming, seeking as though detached but sentient things, a place to alight. One listening at a wireless telephone receiver may hear the messages. They come in fragments. Exclamatory, protesting, affectionate; telling of desires, hopes, fears, business. But whence they come or whither they go, to the casual listener, who awaits the sound of some familiar voice, remains a mystery profound.

AN IMPORTANT TEST

Suit has been brought to test the validity of the anti-alien land law. It is brought by a white man who desires to lease eighty acres in Los Angeles county to a Japanese. The term of the proposed lease is five years.

Analysis of the Americanism that in the circumstances would seek to establish Japanese sway over such a tract, may be waived. The point is that the people of California do not desire a lease of this type to be sanctioned. To the best of their ability they have put their sentiments on record. They have sought to bring about inhibition in an orderly and wholly legal way.

There is no occasion now to recite again the evil involved in permitting the Japanese to control the agricultural lands of California. The matter has been exploited thoroughly. The senate has discussed it. Local organizations have gathered and published the facts. The conclusion reached is that if California is to remain American territory the spread of the Japanese must be checked.

Californians are averse to any course out of harmony with justice. They wish to avoid conflict with international understandings. They are anxious also to preserve their racial integrity, and their own industrial dominance in a domain that belongs to them, but upon whose fertile area an alien people has turned covetous gaze, or trodden with trespassing feet.

Should the courts undo the effort of California to protect itself, and thus to protect the whole country, the struggle would be taken up anew. It is a situation in which defeat is not to be accepted. The spirit in which the oncoming alien tide is faced, is that of unshakable determination. Were it to utter itself, its words must be those of the French at Marne "They shall not pass."

DUST IN THE EYES

Basil King, author of note, says that disarmament is a bluff; that nothing will come of the conference. He perceives the fault of the Caucasian to lie in the fact that he throws dust in the eyes of others of his race, unaware that they are throwing dust in his eyes.

Mr. King accepts the great work of inventors, the motor car, telephone, airplane, as expressions of the spiritual. Thus he places Edison, Bell, Morse, the Wright brothers on a lofty plane. He adds: "All these have done for their race in their age what the Hebrew prophets and seers did in their times. This we do not recognize, and so are short-circuited from the spiritual forces by which the inventors functioned."

He does not think violence a power for accomplishment. Therefore he holds that the Caucasian must clear his vision "or lose the leadership of the world to one of the more subtle Asiatic races."

All this is interesting without being convincing. It embodies much truth in the premises, but the truth does not point to the conclusion so easily reached by Mr. King.

That the achievements of inventors have been spiritual, or at least born of an inspiration that must be traced to spiritual source, there could be no occasion to deny. That there is a divine intelligence is the conviction of thinking humanity. To what extent mortal mind lays hold upon this intelligence, becomes its instrument, shapes its promptings into material form; really merges into the intelligence and becomes at one with it, are problems unutterably deep.

But the spirituality that Mr. King perceives to have done the wonderful things he mentions—and it has done far more than he names—has been an agency of the very race he proclaims in the next breath to be engaged in throwing dust in the eye of its neighbor. By this inconsistency King breaks down the strength of his own contention.

His view of the conference and its results is a mere statement of opinion. He can point to numerous facts to prove his theory of the lack of finality in any policy of violence. When he looks to the future, it must be with the uncertain gaze of one whose vision ends at the veil.

Why should he not accept the proposed conference as indicating a purpose to endorse his estimate of violence? It is unjust to aver in advance that the meeting is to have no meaning. The men who are to gather there would be incapable of blinding the eyes of the others with diplomatic dust, even were such their intent. The nation that has been trying to throw dust, is not of the Caucasian race at all; is indeed, of a wholly different type, with a wholly different code of morals; one of the "more subtle" folk whose triumph he thinks he sees.

If spirituality is essential (as it is), and marvelous inventions express spirituality, why should Caucasians fear a race so far lacking in this quality that they have given no visible sign?

INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT

The more fully the invisible government comes into view, the lower its esteem in popular judgment. For the ku klux to term themselves invisible was a misnomer. Nocturnal prowlers who array themselves in white nighties, and light with electric glow the path they tread, may be called any one of several things, but they cannot logically be called invisible.

When first this revived band of grotesques came into notice it was by reason of certain acts of violence, and certain presumptuous threats. Their announcement of intent to regulate the conduct of all and sundry appeared as evidence of the most colossal cheek. The mob was seeking to be the mentor of society. It was to fight wrong by perpetrating greater wrong. It was a spurious police force, much in need of a clubbing by genuine police.

As further portrayed the organization takes on the aspect of a collection of dupes. Its members have been hypnotized. They have taken strange oaths, which reduced to real substance, amount to solemn pledges to support in luxury the small coterie that has succeeded in "playing them for suckers." They have been buying stock in a concern that declares dividends in such manner as to fatten only the already well-larded ribs of the promoters.

Efforts have been made to kill some of the leaders. Probably this bespeaks a mistaken policy. Simply to deprive them of the spoils and then treat them, by their own formula, to a coat of tar and feathers, would seem to be the utmost proper degree of violence.

POLONAISE

By Dr. Frank Crane.

Poland contains 300,000 square miles and hence is about one-tenth the size of the United States, which contains about 3,000,000.

It has 30,000,000 inhabitants, which is about a third of the number in the United States (95,000,000) excluding our extra territory (10,000,000).

Its people are proud and independent, but for many years it has been oppressed by its two powerful neighbors, Russia and Germany.

As one result of the war, Poland was made free, and is now a member of the league of nations.

It has very fertile soil and the harvests in peace time are excellent.

It was much harassed by the Germans in the war and by the bolsheviks since. It is now getting on its feet slowly.

Its forests are enormous. One Polish authority estimates that they could be sold for enough to pay the national debt.

It is a republic. Its president is General Pilsudsky.

Its capital is Warsaw, which contains a million people.

You get some idea of its extent when you travel there and discover that it takes the train twenty-three hours to go from Warsaw to the Russian frontier eastward, and twelve hours to go northward to the German border.

It has plenty of all mineral supplies but coal, which is why Poland wants Silesia, where coal is plentiful.

The industrial districts of Poland are almost as densely populated as Belgium.

The railways are in bad condition, owing to the destruction caused by the German and Russian invasions.

Poland's currency is badly wrecked. Before the war a Polish mark was worth a shilling, or about a quarter; now it takes 7000 of them to buy four dollars' worth of goods. This renders trade almost impossible.

Poland badly needs raw materials from other countries, and cannot buy them on account of its worthless money.

Alexander M. Thompson, labor correspondent for a London newspaper, says:

"The country's recovery has been further hindered of late by a series of strikes, inspired, according to business men, by bolshevik propaganda, which, owing to the wholesale influx of refugees from Russia, is here exceptionally easy and active. Manufacturers have another grievance in the fact that Poland has the shortest working week of any country in the world, the late socialist government having fixed the legal working maximum at forty-six hours, except in the case of agriculture. In the latter industry arbitration in the case of disputes is compulsory."

The Poles are a vigorous, polite and brilliant people. They have excelled especially in music.

Their experiment in democracy will be watched with interest, since all their traditions are aristocratic.

It is a country in the making, and it has a deal of ancient grudges and hard hates to live down.

It is fairly started, however, on the way toward prosperity, and will one day make an influential and valuable member of the society of nations.

THE LISTENING POST

Prayer.
Sometimes held to be merely a request that something desired be bestowed.
Like asking for favors.
The wrong kind of prayer.

That is the same kind of prayer that the school-boy might utter for unlimited gum drops.
The child for sweets.
The struggler for fame.

Prayer is a stirring up of the inward spirit.
That is, real prayer is.
The kind of prayer that serves and does not weaken.
Prayer is the awakening of the spirit with high resolve.

Prayer is not for the bestowal of a gift.
But for the arousing of the spirit that desired and wise gifts may be obtained by righteous effort.
Prayer is for strength.
Not for a condition of weakness by the mere bestowal of blessings.

So there are prayers for peace.
Commendable enough to be sure.
If accompanied by the will for peace.
For the spiritual resolve to avoid those things that make for war.

Prayer alone will not suffice.
But if properly understood it will fix our purposes and will upon the gaining of things we should have.
Prayer is a desire, expressed and intense for a fixation of purpose.

A state of high and commendable resolve.

A man might sit upon a rock in a far ocean.
Cast away and alone.
Without boat or food or companion.
And pray that help might come directly down from the skies.
And continue to sit there.
And help would not come.

Did he not arouse his spirit to individual effort by prayer and high resolve, he might sit on the rock forever and one day.
And die there alone and forsaken.

But if he resolve through prayer and a fixation of purpose to be strong.
To battle with unfriendly elements.
Not to lose his spirit.
To go forth and find food on the shore and in the forest.

To raise signals that might attract passing ships.
Then his prayer would be availing.

And he would gain strength from purpose.
And high resolve.
Not from without himself.
But from within himself.
For Divinity is within us.
It is a part of us, a spark waiting to be brightened into heat and flame.

Prayer is not that Someone may do for me.
It is that Someone, who created my spirit and gave it life and being, will enable me to do for myself.
That I may arouse myself to my best effort and my highest purpose.
And that kind of prayer will not fail.

I have depths and heights of spirit that I do not know until I invite them into service.
I have capacity for deeds that I am unaware of until I call it forth.

The man of halting speech, inspired and glorified by a high purpose, becomes eloquent and convincing.
Nothing can withstand his eloquence.
The man of weak and sickly physical being, inspired by high desire, overcomes handicap.
His reserves have been called into action.

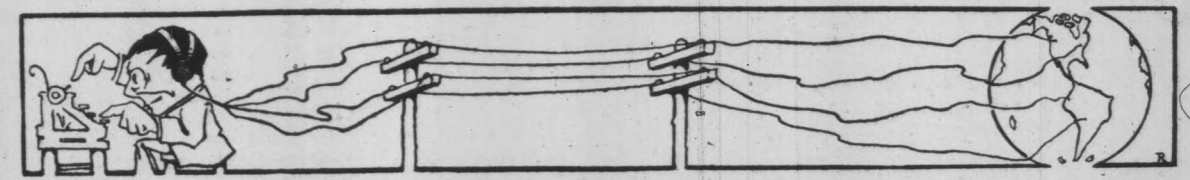

His condition of weakness is not miraculously healed or cured.
But for the time of his high inspiration it is overcome.
Until he has done the work spirit has commanded him to.

So prayer needs to be rightly understood.
That we may all be stronger for it.
That our high resolves may be fixed and stimulated.
For after all, with the inspiration of the Divinity within us, we must do the work.

In arid sections men have not won crops from the land by prayers for rain.
But they have won by conserving the rains that fall.
Cultivation and method that have made one drop of rain do the work of ten.

Let us pray for peace.
And highly resolve to do the things that make for peace.
Avoid the things that make for war.
And then having cleansed and purified ourselves, let us highly resolve to make the one drop of rain do the work of ten.

SONGS OF THE POETS

O Love Is Not a Summer Mood—By Richard Watson Gilder (1844-1909)

O, Love is not a summer mood,
Nor flying phantom of the brain,
Nor youthful fever of the blood,
Nor dream, nor fate, nor circumstance.
Love is not born of blinded chance,
Nor bred in simple ignorance.

Love is the flower of maidenhood;
Love is the fruit of mortal pain;
And she hath winter in her blood.
True love is steadfast as the skies,
And once alight, she never flies;
And love is strong, and love is wise.

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

By HENRY JAMES.

New York society woman who is sued for amount due for a big ball merely is being asked to pay the piper after the dance.

The marital bark of one couple has been wrecked by a wave. Not a very high wave, either, the hair dresser charging only $18 for it.

"Nobody," remarks an editorial sage, "wants to buy horseshoes for a dead mule." Nor for a live one either.

A scientist says that the "shimmy" was originated by a fish. Hence the characterization "You poor fish!"

While California's dry chief has been transferred to Pittsburgh, it is not to be inferred that the task he tackled here is finished.

The postal pistol-toters of Mr. Hays do not seem to have much luck with moving targets. Mail thieves move extra fast, too.

Chicago sued a paper there for $10,000,000 for having called the city bankrupt. Naturally the municipality desired to correct such financial condition.

When a man threatens to kill his wife, no jury is going to be very severe with the lady for getting the drop first.

It is to be hoped the disarmament conference is not to be disturbed by bulletins from the battlefields of Silesia.

Americans who enlisted to fight the Moors are now centering their activities on the problem of getting a return ticket.

As a rule "soldiers of fortune" find that misfortune is in command.

Courts of New York have sent a policeman to prison for being brutal. He was amazed as so rigorous a curtailment of official rights.

Uncle Sam seems averse to helping the home brew industry.

Another reason for maintaining a navy is that it is chasing bootleggers now.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

AMERICAN GRIT FORBIDS RUINS

[Washington Post]

Rome points with pride to its ruins, Pompeii is famous for what few marks of an old civilization still remain and the old world in general gloats over a lot of ghost cities that existed in another generation and which, once destroyed, were never set up again, but, according to the way L. M. Pearsall of Detroit, Mich., looks at it, America will never follow the old world in this respect. On the contrary, America would be ashamed at any time in its existence to point out a city that, once having been ruined by flood or fire, was not immediately rebuilt. "Take San Francisco," said Mr. Pearsall. "Hardly had the smoldering fires been put out when the work of rebuilding San Francisco began. Energetic men and women, native sons and daughters, set to work immediately to put up a better San Francisco. That they succeeded is evidenced by the great city that now flourishes where once was wreck and ruin. It was the same after the Chicago fire. Baltimore, too, following one of the greatest fires the world ever saw, set to rebuilding, and that part of Baltimore which was rebuilt is greater and better in every way than the Baltimore that stood where the flames mounted high.

"Only recently we had two outstanding illustrations of American grit and determination. The first of these was at Pueblo, Colo., which was almost completely wiped out by flood waters. The second was at San Antonio, Texas. While messages of sympathy and help came pouring in over the wires to the San Antonians, the mayor of that city, speaking for the populace, told the outside world that San Antonio needed no help; that San Antonio stood ready and willing to rebuild their own city, to restore what the flood waters had washed away, and the total damage there amounts to a figure close on to $8,000,000. With such a spirit America will never have any ruins such as they exhibit in Rome and other places in the old world."

Reporting an actress as engaged to marry, and then denying the report is a pretty cheap publicity stunt.

When an appeal is made on technical grounds, it means that there are no real grounds for appeal.

Japan might as well relinquish the notion that the coming conference is to devise methods of smashing China.

The Jeanette Rankin mentioned in the public prints right along is a trotter.

Comment on the News
By HENRY JAMES

David Starr Jordan favors absolute and complete disarmament on the Pacific by both the United States and Japan. This entitles him to credit for kindness of heart. He says that 90 per cent of the Japanese want disarmament.

None the less the distinguished gentleman is having a dream. It is a mortal privilege to reach for the unattainable. In the very nature of things, the reach must fall short. The attainment of the unattainable is accomplished only in visions.

It may be true that the Japanese favor disarmament, but in 50 manner does this help them. The military party rules Japan. The military party favors conquest. It desires to subjugate and possess its neighbors. This may not be bare-handed. The hand that strikes at the sovereignty of another people must bear weapons.

Official Japan may be considered as opposed to disarmament in any such broad sense as Dr. Jordan mentions. It might be induced to consent to certain limitations. The sentiment of the Japanese population may be admirable, its inclination peaceable. In circumstances as they exist and ment has no more potency than a breath blown against the tempest.

For the United States to disarm entirely, or even to an extent that would make it inferior in army or navy to Japan, could be nothing less than suicidal. Once totally disarmed, it would be helpless either to defend itself, or to exercise an influence (as a police force) in safeguarding the world.

Wonderfully fine would it be if the human race had risen to the level of honesty and unselfishness. There is a large, and generally submerged element, that is urging upwards towards such a plane. In time its influence may be potent and effective, but not yet.

There may come a time when the citizen no longer shall have reason for locking his door at night, concealing his table silver when the family goes to the beach, or putting a guard on his automobile. With the coming of such a day armies may be dismissed, and battleships set at the honorable task of carrying coal.

Recently auto bandits robbed a man in Los Angeles. After taking his money they shot him, probably with fatal effect. The same night the same group or a similar one robbed a young woman and her escort, forcing the escort to assist in despoiling the lady of her rings. These incidents are mentioned not that they are unusual, but that they occur while the city council continues to quibble about the appointment of police.

Within three months a young man has had the misfortune to kill two persons in automobile accidents. The victim of the second accident was the driver's father. It does not appear that in either case the tragedy was due to criminal carelessness. It is believed that the second resulted from nervousness occasioned by the first. The suggestion is made in kindness that the young man refrain from driving. Let him even be superstitious and believe that there is a hoodoo at the wheel with him.

JUST TO SMILE

An Irish jarvey was driving an English tourist along a quiet country road in the west of Ireland.

At one point an ass put his head over the fence and began to give full play to his vocal powers, as only an ass can.

"Well, Pat," said the Englishman, "what song is your friend singing?" "It's the 'Wearing of the Green'."

"No, indeed!" replied Pat, with a twinkle in his eye. "Tis 'Johnny, I Hardly Knew You.'"

The old man regarded his last unmarried daughter critically.

"Let me see, Alice," he reflected. "Young Smythe has been calling on your regularly for six or eight months, hasn't he?"

"Yes, father," simpered Alice. "Well," continued her parent, "if he asks you to marry him when he comes tonight, tell him to see me. Understand?"

"Yes, dada," giggled Alice. "But suppose he doesn't ask me to marry him?"

"H'm," reflected papa. "In that case just tell him I want to see him."

"Reggie," said old Goldbags, as he handed over a banknote for $5 to his son, but still kept hold of one corner of it as he delivered his homily: "Reggie, I don't want to stint you on spending money; whenever you go out with the boys—and girls—I want you to pay your share of the expenses, but—"

The old man stopped, then continued: "But, Reggie, every once in a while I want you to remember that it takes a hundred pounds 365 days, working day and night and Sundays, at 5 per cent, to earn $5."

KAEMMERLINGS ARE HOME AFTER TRIP OF SEVEN WEEKS

Found Depression in East About to Change to General Activity

Dr. and Mrs. G. Kaemmerling and young son of 340 North Orange street returned to Glendale this week after a vacation of seven weeks in their old home in Webb City and Joplin, Mo. They left September 1, going overland by train. The trip was taken primarily for the purpose of providing rest for Dr. Kaemmerling. While away Dr. and Mrs. Kaemmerling saw all of the "old folks" at home, who have not seen the wisdom of packing up and coming to California. He says these people took his glowing stories of California with more than the usual grain of salt.

While away Dr. Kaemmerling took post graduate work under Dr. H. S. Crosser, one of the noted surgeons of the country, at several of the leading hospitals of St. Louis. In comparing the Glendale hospitals with those in St. Louis, Dr. Kaemmerling paid compliment to the surgical equipment of the local sanitarium.

The outstanding feature of Dr. Kaemmerling's trip, he says, is the difference between business conditions in that section and in Southern California. A wave of business depression which borders on poverty has been sweeping the middle and eastern states during the past year and a half, according to Dr. Kaemmerling. The population of Joplin, a mining town, has been reduced 15,000 since the war, due to the mines in that section being shut down. Of the 350 mines, only two are in operation. In addition to this the fruit has been destroyed by frost.

The encouraging part about the situation back there is that the people feel that better times are in store for them. The work of roadbuilding is being started in earnest. Sixty miles of concrete roads have been laid in Jasper county since the war. According to Dr. Kaemmerling, there is enough crushed rock in Jasper county to supply the roadbuilding needs of Missouri, 60 cars being shipped out of that locality every day. During the past year $6,000,000 has been voted for good roads.

A comparison in home building is interesting. In a radius of 40 miles around Joplin building operations at the present time consists of the remodeling of three small dwellings. In Glendale we have hundreds of homes in course of building at this time.

Dr. Kaemmerling says that the whole family is glad to get back to Glendale. They have ceased to long for the "old home"—the trip this year settled everything along this line for all time.

MOTORISTS GIVEN WAY TO DRIVE SAFE

Ten new safety suggestions for motorists have been issued by the safety bureau of the Auto Club of Southern California.

These follow the first ten issued at the beginning of the safety campaign a short time ago by the club. Read these carefully, Mr. Motorist, and see if you are following all of them:

On approaching a grade crossing shift into second gear. This will eliminate stalling car on the crossing.

When you overtake and pass a car do not cut in again until you are about 50 feet ahead of the car you have passed.

Do not pass a vehicle at a highway or street intersection.

Carry extra light globes in your tool box just as you would extra tubes or tools.

Put on your skid chains at the first sign of wet weather.

In wet weather apply your brake with the clutch still in when you start to stop.

Remember that a chain on one wheel only, is worse than none at all.

When negotiating a corner or curve don't jam your throttle on too soon.

Bad skids occur in this way. Approach all crossings cautiously, the worst accidents occur at crossings.

Do not straddle car tracks when driving on slippery streets. Your wheels are liable to jump.

BATTERY PRICES

BELOW 1914 LEVEL

"Prices below the level of 1914 would seem incredible," said Mr. Doll of the Psenner-Doll Auto Electric Company, 610 East Broadway. "Yet in some manner the manufacturers of the Philadelphia Diamond Grid Batteries have accomplished it."

"There is no similar battery of equal efficiency nor any other that has been so openly guaranteed to give one year's continuous service as these special type Ford, Buick and Dodge batteries. And because Philadelphia Diamond Grid Batteries have the habit of outliving the cars themselves is one reason why my shop is so popular. Of course, a lot of the men who buy these special type batteries do not understand that they contain patented quarter-sawn oak hardwood separators. If they knew that and knew what it means, they would know why the makers could agree to give such a sweeping guarantee."

"But," the question is asked, "just what is this Philadelphia firm doing that they can so radically cut costs and still give the motorists great value?"

"Well," said Mr. Doll, "I'm not going to try to tell you how it's done, but I happen to know that new methods of concentration, bulk production, wise buying, and a fair pricing of the finished product have given me a chance to make money, and at the same time I give my patrons a new opportunity to save it."

MOTORISTS GOING EAST BETTER HURRY

If you contemplate a trip to the East in the near future, it is advisable not to delay starting. If it is possible for the motorist to delay taking this trip until early summer, it would be advisable to do so, as the rains of the middle west are beginning to play havoc with the roads of that section.

In some localities there are washouts that are practically impassable, while in others the mudholes are anything but a pleasure to wade through. And as the remainder of the year wears away the Santa Fe trail or National Old Trails route from ocean to ocean will get worse instead of better.

For the benefit of those who are compelled to make the trip east by automobile soon the Glendale Daily Press furnishes herewith a survey of conditions along the Santa Fe route, this being provided by the local branch of the Auto Club of Southern California.

Pavement is complete from Glendale for a distance of 32 miles to the summit of the Cajon Pass, thence excellent desert road through Victorville and Barstow to Daggett. Some rough going will be had in the vicinity of Ludlow, but all told, there is approximately but 20 miles of rough road between the summit of Cajon Pass and Needles.

After crossing the Colorado river via the automobile bridge at Topock, it is advisable to swing left immediately upon reaching the lumber yard and follow the new road to Oatman. This road consists of new highway grade the entire distance with the exception of three miles in the old river bottom, but this short stretch offers no difficulties. Then after 2.5 miles of poor rocky mountain road through Oatman and Goldroads, the road to Kingman is excellent, with the exception of one short stretch which is chunky and crosswashed.

Leaving Kingman for 30 miles there is good dirt or gravel road, then crossing under the railroad tracks near the Truxton Indian school there are many ruts and sharp rocks, and for almost two miles beyond the road is rocky and crosswashed, but the remaining 14.4 miles into Peach Springs is good dirt road. At this point, following the new grade to the left of the old road there is 28 miles of excellent dirt road, then 4.3 miles of chunky road with numerous crosswashes which make slow going. Then to Seligman the remaining 5.3 miles is poor to fair, and leaving Seligman after 4.1 miles of fair desert road, there is 14.9 miles of extremely poor going over road that is rocky and has many ruts. Thence, to Ashfork, the remaining 6.8 miles is good dirt road.

Leaving Ashfork for 3.1 miles is fair dirt road, thence 5.2 miles of road that has been badly washed and that is full of ruts and exposed rocks. The next 1.7 miles is upgrade and is also rutty and has many exposed rocks, but the remaining 9.8 miles to Williams is newly constructed highway that is good, although soft in many places.

From Williams to Maine station, a distance of 18 miles, is fairly good road, although it must be driven slowly, due to exposed rocks. Swinging north at Maine station, the new road, which is 72 miles long, is in good shape with the exception of about 20 miles that has been crosswashed, due to the fact that the insufficient culverts placed on the road have not been able to care for the drainage.

From Maine station to Flagstaff is somewhat rocky, as is the road past Meteor Mountain to Winslow and requires slow driving to avoid excessive tire wear. Motorists who have used Tolchicoeup route within the week report 20 miles of rough, rutty road, due to heavy travel after one of the recent heavy rains.

The new grade from Winslow to Holbrook is as a whole in fair shape and south through the Petrified Forest to St. Johns and Springerville is in excellent condition, as is the road east over the transcontinental divide. The 87 miles from Socorro to Albuquerque is in unusually good shape for the present time of the year and motorists are making it in three and one-half hours. The first 5.5 miles north of this place consists of concrete highway, thence excellent dirt road, somewhat rocky in places, to Santa Fe via La Badjara Grade. This grade has been widened on all turns and is in very fair shape.

From Santa Fe to within approximately 25 miles of Raton, New Mexico, passes through a part of the country which still shows the effects of the summer storms, but with few exceptions the road is again in its usual state of repair. The last 16 miles into Raton is excellent gravelled road and crossing to Colorado over Raton Pass, natural highway is continuous to the Kansas State line. At the present time the roads are good through Kansas, but arriving at Kansas City, the Club advises travelers to inquire at the Kansas City Motor Club for latest reports on road conditions through to St. Louis.

Latest advice received is to the effect that since it has rained almost daily for the past month in Missouri, there is a great deal of mud and some of the roads are impassable without the help of teams. The Kansas City Club will be in a position to give motorists the benefit of their reports. This club also advises travelers to call at the Automobile Club of St. Louis, 5230 Locust street, St. Louis, for late information on the roads between that point and Terre Haute, as that part of the National Old Trails route is still under construction. Practically the entire distance from Terre Haute to either New York or Washington, D. C., is over hard, surfaced road.

WHITE STAR LINE HAS GREAT FLEET

LONDON, Oct. 22.—By their purchase of the 35,000-ton German ship Columbus, the White Star Line continues to strengthen its Southampton-New York service. By next summer the White Star will have the Majestic (55,000 tons), Olympic (46,000 tons) and Columbus (35,000 tons) running in the keener competition with the Cunard Berengaria (52,000 tons), Aquitania (45,000 tons), and Mauretania (30,000 tons), and it is safe to say that never was there such a race of giants.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO WRITE ESSAYS ON SAFE HIGHWAYS

More than 200,000 school children are to have a chance to help make Southern California the safest territory in America, for motoring, according to an announcement just made by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

All children under the age of fourteen are to be given an opportunity to get a trip to the nation's capital at Washington and also to aid in the prevention of accidents by writing essays on "How I Can Make the Highways More Safe."

All grammar school teachers in this locality will also be called upon to engage in a safety contest with a reward of $500 and a trip to Washington, with all expenses paid, for the purpose of preventing accidents in this county.

Both contests, according to Automobile Club officials, are to be conducted by the Highway and Highway Transport Education committee in Washington, with representatives in this section.

Any grammar school pupil fourteen years old or under may compete in writing an essay, about 500 words in length, telling about traffic rules, how to cross streets, why children should not play in the road, or any other means that will make the highways more safe. Illustrations are to be provided by the pupil. All essays must be handed to the school principal on or before December 10, and it is suggested by Auto Club officials that work on the essays begin at once. In the case of teachers, bulletins will be received from Washington as to the conduct of the contest which may take the form of a lecture, recitation, game or drama in presenting the safety subject to pupils.

Full information on these contests may be obtained from the Automobile Club of Southern California.

ARROYO CANYON IS GOOD SUNDAY TRIP

The Glendale Daily Press' weekly automobile trip will be short and enjoyable. The Arroyo Seco canyon has been chosen as a destination for the day's outing.

For this trip the brakes should be in good condition. From Broadway and Brand go east on Broadway to Glendale avenue, thence north on Glendale avenue to Verdugo road. Continue north on this road to Montrose. Turn right at Montrose and climb the hill to La Canada. At the junction of the La Canada and Crescenta roads (old church stands at this intersection), turn north and go straight up the hill.

Continue to climb until the sign at the right side of the road directs the way to "Arroyo Seco 2 Miles." Take this road and soon the grade into the Arroyo will be reached. This is a steep grade and no one should endeavor to make it without properly adjusted brakes. After reaching the floor of the canyon the motorist may either go up as far as Oak Wild camp or may stop at one of the public camping grounds along the way.

After a day in the canyon the motorist will want to start home about 4:30. Instead of climbing the grade to La Canada, go straight down the canyon into Pasadena. At Altadena turn to the right and follow the boulevard over Devil's Gate bridge into La Canada and south to Glendale or, after leaving the canyon, continue south into Pasadena to Colorado street. Turn right on this thoroughfare and continue over the $200,000 Colorado street bridge through Eagle Rock and on to the little fireside in Glendale.

This trip is not more than 20 miles in length and may be taken "after church." Have the lunch all ready and as soon as the church is over pile it into the car and enjoy a gentle jaunt into the wilds. The trip to the picnic ground can be made in a little more than an hour.

COMMUNITY CHEST PASADENA, Oct. 22.—Plans for the drive to raise funds for Pasadena's Community chest, from which twenty local charities are to benefit, are nearing completion. A quarter of a million dollars is the goal in the campaign, which will start next month.

NOT GUILTY CLEVELAND, Oct. 22.—A verdict of not guilty was returned in the trial of Mrs. Emma Colavito for her alleged connection with the death of Daniel Kaber, a publisher, over two years ago. She was tried on an indictment charging first-degree murder.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

WOMEN'S CLUB HAD BIG MEETING IN AUDITORIUM

Mrs. Alice Minters Tells of Trip East During Past
Summer

The meeting of the Women's Twentieth Century Club Thursday last proved to be one of the best and most interesting held for some time.
The membership has been increasing rapidly and now numbers 200.

The large auditorium was used for the luncheon which was served by a caterer, and was one of the really good parts of the delightful program.
The luncheon speaker was Mrs. Alice Minters, who gave an interesting resume of her vacation trip, a part of which was spent in Chicago.

Mrs. M. T. Lee, the able president of the club, happily greeted the membership and gave a short talk along progressive lines, heartily thanking the officers and members for their good work in the past, and outlining the year's program for what she believed would be the best year's work yet done. The heads of different departments of the club outlined their work, and gave an inkling of what they hoped to accomplish.

A delightful piano selection by Miss Thompson of Eagle Rock, a solo by Lucile Bessalo and a number of dances by Natalie Haraszthy added much to the afternoon's entertainment. Miss Wilhelmina Van de Goorberg gave an interesting address on "Public School Education."

Following is the program and calendar for the club meeting of Thursday, October 27:

Business meeting, 2:30 p. m.

Current Events and Literature.

(a) Pulitzer prizes, Mrs. C. I.

Williams and Mrs. Clara S. Ellis.

(b) Questions for Women, Mrs. A.

Eisk.

Violin solo—Virgil Drenghs, with

Miss Margaret Stuckwisch at the piano.

Members and guests are required to present cards at the door.

Section work will be announced later.

On the fourth Saturday of every month will be given the regular dance under the auspices of the club.

The next dance, Saturday, October

29, $1 and war tax per couple.

The hostesses of the evening will be

Mrs. Claude Williams and Mrs. E. C.

Jones.

Improvements.—F. W. Preston believes in progress, and has added a fine Rapid Dayton pump to his garage business at 804 East Colorado street, Eagle Rock. He is also making other improvements. W. D. Pett-ibone, an expert mechanic, arrived this week and will take charge of the repair and vulcanizing end of the business. He comes from Detroit, Mich., and has had 22 years' experience in the business. Mr. Preston is a great booster for Eagle Rock, and believes it is destined to become a large city.

Two Fords Daily.—J. G. Caddell, manager of the Caddell Motor company, reports his company has sold on an average of two Ford cars a day for October. He is looking forward to a big business this fall and winter, and is especially anxious to get into his new garage and sales room on West Colorado. The new building will have 15,000 square feet of floor space.

CAMPING PARK WILL BE OPENED SOON AT EAGLE ROCK

Community Kitchen One of Many Good Features
for Motorists

Eagle Rock is to have a real camping park for automobilists and others who desire to seek the cool shades of the canyons, and rest and drink pure mountain spring water, and fish for mountain trout. Eugene Del Fosse and Charles McLaughlin, two wide-awake business men, are promoters of the project, and are now busy clearing and leveling a large piece of ground at Stanley and Acacia streets for the camping ground. A community kitchen is being built, and numerous wood tent floors provided so that tenters may have the comforters of home if they desire them.
Bubbling mountain springs pour their cool waters into basins to quench the thirst of the campers, and large pools in which mountain trout have been planted serve as an incentive to tarry long at the camp ground. Eagle Rock Springs is the name given the new enterprise and it will be completed within the next few weeks.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Servoss and son Rex of Fillmore were in town today looking over the city with a view to locating here. They expect to buy a going business in Eagle Rock.

Mrs. Clara S. Ellis spent yesterday in Los Angeles on business and pleasure.

After a sojourn of several months in the east, Mrs. Alice Winters has returned home. She gave an excellent account of her trip before the Women's Club at its recent meeting.

Mrs. T. H. Blalock of Santa Ana was visiting old friends here the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Elliott of Hollywood have moved into their new bungalow on Glen Eyrie avenue.

Mrs. M. Oellen and sister, Mrs. E.
Mellinger of St. Louis, Mo., are here to spend the winter with Mrs. E. Stur-devant.

Miss Frances Broxholme arrived from Chicago recently and will be the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Alice Winters for several months.

W. M. Harris and wife of Los Angeles have moved here to make their home. They are erecting a residence on Linden Way.

Misses Ellen and Pauline Elliott of Chapel Hill, Tenn., arrived this week and will spend the winter with their sister, Mrs. Wm. Elliott of Eagle Rock.

The Thursday Morning Musical club was entertained by Mrs. A. H.
Mills of Los Angeles. Miss Ruth Thompson, a talented young musician of Eagle Rock, rendered some of her own compositions.

After a delightful visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stanton of South Kenilworth, Mrs. Thelma
Sweet and little daughter have returned to their home in Sparks, Nevada.

F. H. Goedecker has returned to his old job in the tailor shop here.

AUXILIARY HOLDS A MEETING; ELCTS ALL OFFICERS

Mrs. F. E. Prindle is President of Group for Coming Year

The local American Legion Auxiliary is planning on doing splendid work, and having good entertainments this winter. A meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. R. Rose on North Acacia avenue and an organization of an auxiliary to Theodore
C. Kothen Post No. 227 was effected.
The following officers were chosen:
President, Mrs. F. E. Prindle; vice president, Mrs. W. P. Witcher; secretary, Catherine Bessolo; treasurer, Mrs. J. H. Kaltenback; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Marshall Prindle.

To become a member of the auxiliary one must be a mother, wife, sister, or daughter of a former service man or woman. Meetings are held on Thursday evenings in the basement of the library. Come and be a member.

A bazaar will be held on the Bessolo grounds in November 1 to assist the Legion in securing local headquarters.
Watch for further details.

The American Legion wishes to announce that a very busy season is in store for Eagle Rockers—including dances, entertainments and movies.
Look for announcements.

Former service men are urged to attend meetings and join, dues are small and a great deal of fun is in store for you. The Legion is now having a "Every Member Get a Member Campaign." Hook up with a "Buddy" and join, and learn what the Legion is really doing for the ex-service men and women.

BARNUM COMPANY OPENS AN OFFICE

The opening of a real estate office in Eagle Rock by H. E. Barnum and company, Los Angeles, will mean a great deal in the development of this rapidly growing section. Mr. Barnum will be in active charge of the office,
and will be assisted by A. Courtall, also an expert in this line. Mr. Barnum originally came from Iowa and Minneapolis, where he had big holdings and successfully handled many big land development projects. He came to California with Senator Leslie Francis of Des Moines, Iowa, and they are jointly owners of 6,000 acres of fine land at Paso Robles. The new concern will start an active campaign for Eagle Rock, and will be instrumental in locating hundreds of new people here.

Their office is located in the old bank building, 746 East Colorado in the heart of the Eagle Rock district, which is just beginning to take on great activity. Mr. Courtall was located in the real estate business in the Hollywood and Wilshire districts, and has a knowledge of business and an acquaintance there which will work exceptionally well in Eagle Rock realty sales. He is a live wire and well posted on values.

PLUCK PLUS ENERGY BRINGS SUCCESS

That pluck and energy coupled with business acumen, will win under the most adverse conditions is demonstrated in the rapid growth of the Eagle Rock New and Used Furniture company, 740 East Colorado, of which Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Palmanteer, are the proprietors. When they came to Eagle Rock last January the brick block in which they are now located was used for storage purposes, and presented a very uninviting place to open such a business. They have built up business by giving service and good goods, and so large has their business grown that they are opening a branch store at Highland Park, corner Pasadena avenue and Avenue 64, about November 15. They also have an upholstering business at Hollywood. Mr. Paul believe in giving service and is certainly making good.
When they located in Eagle Rock it was possible to buy business lots in their locality at $650; now they cannot be had for less than $2,500. This gives some idea of how things have grown in their immediate neighborhood.

MRS. ANNA PITTMAN HAS PASSED AWAY

Mrs. Anna Pittman passed away at her home, Thursday night, after an illness extending over several weeks.
Heart trouble was given as the cause of her death.

Mrs. Pittman was a resident of Eagle Rock for many years, and her husband was at one time city clerk.
He passed away nine years ago. Mrs.
Pittman was an amiable woman, and an active worker in the Congregational church. Funeral services will be held Monday from the Little Church of the Angels, where the internment will take place, Rev. Isaacs, her pastor, officiating. Deceased leaves a daughter, Mrs. Roberts, who lives at her mother's home.

BUILD CHARACTER SUBJECT OF TALK

Parent-Teachers' Ass'n. Has Good Program at School
Wednesday

LA CRESCENTA, Oct. 22.—The regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association was held at the school auditorium Wednesday afternoon with a splendid attendance. The president, Mrs. S. B. Young, presided. Mrs. A. L. Hamilton of Pasadena, gave a most interesting talk on "Character Building." Mrs. F. H. Czeranski and Mrs. Robert Wildhack were joint hostesses.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turk of Glendale will be happy to learn they are planning to build a home on the grounds of the La Crescenta Hotel and make this their future home.

John Gage of Pala, Calif., is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Henrietta Bastable, of Los Angeles avenue.

Mrs. A. E. Brown passed away at her home in Pasadena. Mrs. Brown with Miss E. Janvier spent much of her time in her La Crescenta home, was a member of the La Crescenta Woman's club and possessed many modern friends here.

FRED'K GOLDSMITH NOW LIEUTENANT

Friends of Frederick Oliver Goldsmith and of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Young Goldsmith of South Glendale avenue, will be interested to know that the young man, who is but 23 years of age, passed examinations he took last May and is now confirmed in his rank of lieutenant, junior grade. He is therefore established as an officer in the navy for life unless he chooses to resign with an opportunity to work up to a high rank.

He began his service in the British Marine, serving on the R. M. S. Baltic, R. M. S. Dominion, R. N. T. S. Lake Manitoba, and other vessels. He then entered the American navy serving on the Manchuria, Minnesota, and several others. His last war service was as commander of the U. S. S. John Collins engaged in mine sweeping in the North Sea, where he earned the navy cross since bestowed upon him. Injuries suffered there sent him to the hospital. Since his discharge from that branch of the service he has been convalescing with relatives in Massachusetts and with his parents in Glendale. He is now fully recovered and expects to be called to service at any time.

RAISED CHECK $137

GOT 13 MONTHS
POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Oct. 22.—Believe it or not, thirteen is a jinx. Ask H. T. Dean, arrested on a charge of raising a check. The complaining witness testified that Dean raised a $3 check to $13. "Thirteen months imprisonment," was the verdict following the conviction.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

EXCUSABLE WRATH

I don't swear.
It is rare
That I break loose and tear
With some language unfitting
The ambient air
But I guess
There is stress
That excuses it. Yes,
There are times when a bit of it's Good—more or less.

As I write
I've a slight
Recollection: Last night
As I came from my car to My gate—twas half light,
I did lose
In the ooze
One of my two gumshoes,
And I went back forgetting Gumshoes went by twos.

Just as I Could descry
Where my lost shoe did lie
And reached out to get it
And keep high and dry,
Something gave
And that knave
Of a shoe that still clave
To my other foot slipped off—
Now might I not rave?

Say, did you Ever do
Such a thing—tell me true,
And, if it is printable,
What word or two
Did you use
In the ooze
When you found you must lose
Not one, but the both
Of your pair of gumshoes?

GET GOOD MILK AT 10c QUART

BRIDGEPORT, O., Oct. 22.—Employees of the Wheeling Traction company do not worry because fifteen cents a quart is charged for milk in this locality. Each morning and evening they stop at a farm along the Barton division, leave buckets and, on the return trip pick up the fluid, which is brought to the car barns on Wheeling Island and there distributed. The cost is ten cents a quart. The milk is guaranteed fresh.

SHORT POTATOES

COLUMBUS, Oct. 22.—The reason only a few potatoes are being shipped out of Ohio is because Buckeye State raisers have not produced enough for consumption within the State, according to George U. Marvin, Chief of the State Bureau of Markets.

SOLD GASOLINE FOR KEROSENE

HINTON, W. Va., Oct. 22.—A local merchant had the scare of his life the other day. In the darkness of night he rolled out and opened a barrel of gasoline, selling several gallons of the fluid for kerosene before his mistake was discovered and his patrons could be notified. The gasoline was being freely used in lamps by his customers, but fortunately there were no accidents.

NOT ENOUGH

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—A charge against a local candy manufacturing firm of selling chocolates containing a cavity filled with liquor was dismissed in the Federal court today after testimony had been given that a person would have to take 150 chocolates to get a man-sized drink.
